Summary

Early education programs must provide high-quality early education and child development services, including for children with disabilities, that promote children's cognitive, social, and emotional growth for later success in school. An early education program must embed responsive and effective teacher-child interactions. All programs must implement an evidence-based curriculum, and screening and assessment procedures that support individualization and growth in the areas of development described in the State of Alaska Early Learning Guidelines (incorporated by reference in 4 AAC 60.170) and support family engagement in children's learning and development. A program must deliver developmentally, culturally, and linguistically appropriate approaches to learning science, physical skills, and creative arts that include language, literacy, mathematics, and social and emotional development.

I. Learning Environment

An early education program must ensure teachers and other relevant staff provide responsive care, effective teaching, and an organized learning environment that promotes healthy development and children's skill growth aligned with the State of Alaska Early Learning Guidelines, including for children with disabilities.

- a. A program must provide a well-organized learning environment. A well-organized learning environment includes

- i. developmentally appropriate schedules, lesson plans, and indoor and outdoor learning experiences that provide opportunities for choice, play, exploration, and experimentation among a variety of learning, sensory, and motor experiences; and
 - ii. teacher-directed and child-initiated activities, active and quiet learning activities, and opportunities for individual, small group, and large group learning activities.
- b. An early education program class may have a maximum of twenty (20) children led by two teachers or a teacher and a teaching assistant. A double session class may have a maximum of 17 children led by two teachers or a teacher and a teaching assistant.
- c. An early education program must regularly serve 4 and 5-year-old children for at least 15 hours per week.

 - ii. be periodically changed to support children's interests, development, and learning.
- e. An early education program must implement snack and mealtimes in ways that support development and learning. Snack and mealtimes must be structured and used as learning opportunities that support teaching staff-child interactions and foster communication and conversations that contribute to a child's learning, development, and socialization. Programs are encouraged to meet this requirement with family style meals when developmentally appropriate.
- f. An early education program must approach routines and transitions between activities, as opportunities for strengthening development, learning, and skill growth.
- g. A program must recognize physical activity as important to learning and integrate intentional movement and physical activity into curricular activities and daily routines in ways that support health and learning.
- h. A program may not use physical activity as reward or punishment.

II. Social and Emotional Support

 - i. The program to implement strategies to identify and support children with mental health and social and emotional concerns;
 - ii. Teachers to improve classroom management and teacher practices through strategies that include using classroom observations and consultations to address teacher and individual child needs and creating physical and cultural environments that promote positive mental health and social and emotional functioning;

- b. A program may not expel or unenroll a child because of a child's behavior.
- c. A program shall prohibit or restrict use of suspension due to a child's behavior. A suspension due to a child's behavior shall be temporary, shall comply with (d) of this section, and may only be used in circumstances involving a safety threat that cannot be reduced or eliminated by the provision of reasonable modifications.
- d. Before a program suspends a child or makes a suspension determination under (c) of this section, the program shall engage with a mental health consultant, collaborate with a parent or guardian of the child, and use appropriate community resources, such as behavior coaches, psychologists, or other appropriate specialists, as needed, to evaluate reasonable modifications that may alleviate the safety threat.
- e. After conclusion of a temporary suspension, a program shall help the child return to full participation in all program activities as quickly as possible while ensuring child safety by:
 - i. continuing to engage with the child's parent or guardian, and a mental health consultant, and continuing to use appropriate community resources;
 - ii. developing a written plan to document the action and supports needed;
 - iii. providing services that include home visits; and,

Adaptations must be culturally sensitive. Before implementing an adaptation, a program must assess whether the adaptation adequately facilitates progress toward meeting school readiness goals.

- i. Programs are encouraged to partner with outside evaluators in assessing such adaptations.

IV. Screening and Developmental Evaluation

- a. Screenings and assessments must be valid and reliable for the population and purpose for which they will be used, including by being conducted by qualified and trained personnel, and being age, developmentally, culturally, and linguistically appropriate, and appropriate for children with disabilities, as available.

- c. Screening must occur within the child's first 45 calendar days of attending the program.
- d. A program must use the DEED identified statewide developmental screening tool(s).

 - i. Referral to the district's Special Education Program for a formal evaluation to assess the child's eligibility for Special Education services as soon as possible; AND/OR
 - ii. Referral to a local agency/provider responsible for formal evaluation to assess the child's eligibility for behavioral health and other medical services related to the child's development.
 - iii. Partnership with the child's parents and the relevant local agency to support families through the formal evaluation process.
 - 1. If a child is determined to be eligible for Special Education services, the program must partner with parents and the Special Education team and assist in coordinating delivery of special education services.
 - 2. If, after completion of the formal evaluation, the Special Education Team determines the child is not eligible for special education and related services, the program must
 - a. Seek guidance from a mental health or child development professional to determine if the formal evaluation shows the child has a significant delay in one or more areas of development that is likely to interfere with the child's development and school readiness; and,

- b. If the child has a significant delay, partner with parents or guardians to help the family access services and supports to help address the child's identified needs.
 - i. Such additional services and supports may be available through a child's health insurance or it may be appropriate for the program to provide needed services and supports under section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act if the child satisfies the definition of disability in 29 U.S.C. 705(9)(b) of the Rehabilitation Act.

This tool will provide ongoing information to evaluate the child's developmental level and progress in outcomes aligned to the goals described in the Alaska Early Learning Guidelines. Such assessments must be conducted with sufficient frequency to allow for individualization within the program year and demonstrate child progress throughout the year. At a minimum, formal assessment must be conducted in the Fall and Spring annually.
- b. A program must regularly use child assessment information along with informal teacher observations and additional information from family and staff, in a culturally responsive manner, to determine a child's strengths and needs, and inform and adjust strategies to better support individualized learning and improve teaching practices.
- c. The use of screening and assessment items and data on any screening or assessment authorized under this subchapter by any agent of the federal government is prohibited for the purposes of ranking, comparing, or otherwise evaluating individual children for purposes other than research, training, or technical assistance, and is prohibited for the purposes of providing rewards or sanctions for individual children or staff.

 - d. If a program serves a child who speaks a language other than English and qualified bilingual staff, contractors, or consultants are not able to conduct screenings and assessments, a program must use an interpreter in conjunction with a staff person qualified to conduct screenings and assessments.
 - e. If a program serves a child who speaks a language other than English, the program must seek volunteers who speak the child's home language to be trained to work in the classroom and support the child's continued development of the home language.

VIII. Coaching

IX. Continuous Quality Improvement

- a. A program must implement a continuous quality improvement process that uses data to (1) identify program strengths and needs, (2) develop and implement plans that address program needs, (3) continually evaluate compliance with program performance standards, and (4) annually evaluate progress towards achieving program goals. These plans will be focused on the early education program only.
- b. A program's continuous quality improvement process must:
 - i. ensure data is aggregated, analyzed, and compared in such a way to assist agencies in identifying risks and informing strategies for continuous improvement in all program service areas;
 - ii. ensure child-level assessment data is aggregated and analyzed at least three times a year, including for sub-groups, such as dual language learners and children with disabilities, as appropriate, and used with other program data to direct continuous improvement related to curriculum choice and implementation, teaching practices, professional development, program design and other program decisions, including changing or targeting scope of services;
